Sign up today to ensure that your school has access to ongoing support which will ensure high quality teaching and learning in this important area of the curriculum.

“Inspectors should consider the extent to which schools are adequately developing their middle leadership and the succession planning and development of future leaders in the school.”

Ofsted 2014

Spelling has a high profile within the new national curriculum and it is important for schools to ensure that it is taught systematically and well. The Leading on Spelling Network will give you access to adviser support along with the opportunity for a member of your team to attend high quality training and engage with colleagues from a range of schools.

The Network will include:

- One half day adviser visit, tailored to the needs of your school – examples of how this time could be used include:- action planning, spelling audit, lesson observations and feedback, staff training
- Annual Leading on Spelling CPD session for one delegate from your school
- Ongoing support from named adviser
- Information on local and national initiatives pertinent to the teaching of spelling
- Access to resources produced by the consultancy team

Feedback from Successful Spelling in the New Curriculum courses held during the 2014-15 academic year:

*“Smart, well presented, relaxed, relevant, informative
A fantastic starting point to develop teaching of spelling in line with the new curriculum.”*

£450 for the 2015-16 academic year, starting in September.
